INTERNSHIPS

DevTown, 5 Months

- I worked as an intern and assisted in several projects based on ReactJS, HTML, CSS, and MongoDB.
- I coordinated well with the team, gaining knowledge on how tasks are completed as a team and obtaining a better understanding of the backend and frontend in full-stack development.
- I gained experience with web development frameworks and libraries such as React and Express and learned how to integrate them with databases like MongoDB.

PROJECTS

Twitter Sentiment Analysis, 2 Months

In my recent work, I focused on Natural Language Processing to categorize tweets based on their sentiment (positive, neutral, or negative). The project involved utilizing a Logistic Regression Machine Learning model, which achieved an impressive accuracy of 92%.

Online Bank Management System, 4 Months

- I collaborated with a team to develop a fully functional Online Bank Management system using Java Servlets, incorporating OTP Verification.
- We utilized Java enterprise edition and employed a MySQL database for data storage.
- This project significantly enhanced my understanding of Java EE and its workings.
